It's About Relationships

As my parents embark on 50 years of marriage this month, I continue to be intrigued at what makes their relationship so special. The foundation of their marriage is based on communication, loyalty, humor, working hard and playing hard. I bear witness to this daily, as their desire to be surrounded by family continues to be evident.

Relationships in the home and relationships at school and with school are no different. Until we are comfortable forming the relationships we need with our students, the learning does not effectively happen. As a school, we must openly communicate, be loyal to our processes and goals, work hard daily, but find time to play.

Please know that we welcome communication from home to school as well. Let us know when you see an issue, let us know when someone has gone out of their way to make your child's experience great, let us know when we have room to improve. Communication is key, so please know that your voice is important to us.

Have a wonderful weekend!

EPCSC Core Value of the Month

All of the East Porter County Schools will be focusing on a core value each month of the school year. It is our mission to not only educate our students in the core academic areas, but also teaching them the values that make them a good human being. The core value for SEPTEMBER is CITIZENSHIP. Citizenship is the qualities that a person is expected to have as a responsible member of the community.

Thank you for being partners with us in our efforts.
